

Suspicious Emails due to Malware Infection

Iseki Polytech Inc.

Mar 30th, 2022

We, Iseki Polytech, Inc. suspects that a computer used by our employee has been infected with computer virus, and that the stolen authentication information has been abused to send out malware-infected emails.

We sincerely apologize for any inconvenience caused to those who have received suspicious emails.

*The domains from which emails sent from Iseki Polytech Inc, are as follows:

@iseki-polytech.com

@unclemole.jp

If you receive an email from a domain other than those above claiming to be Iseki Polytech, Inc. or the Unclemole Association, please delete those emails immediately without opening any attachments or other files.

Again, we would like to apologize deeply for any inconvenience caused to anyone who has received a suspicious email.

Sincerely,

Iseki Polytech, Inc.
